Movella Holdings Inc. (MVLA) Introduces the MTi-320, a High-Performance Active Course Tracker for Robotics and Autonomous Vehicle Applications

Movella Holdings Inc. introduced the MTi-320, a high performance Active Heading Tracker (AHT) with a small form factor designed for integration into any system requiring precise heading tracking, such as warehouse robotics and last mile delivery and autonomous vehicles. The MTi-320, featuring the Xsenso sensor fusion algorithm? high performance, accurately tracks course changes where alternative solutions have difficulty accurately integrating gyroscope data or distortions caused by external magnetic fields.

best stocks to buy today In such environments, the MTi-320 provides stable and robust heading tracking. With its ability to track course changes up to 2000 dps, power consumption of less than 0.5W and a small form factor of 28 x 31.5 x 13 mm, the MTi-320 is an ideal solution for many robotics and autonomous vehicle applications. It features an IP51 enclosure that simplifies mounting the MTi-320.

The industry standard RS232 interface makes connecting to the device as easy as possible. Additionally, the MTi-320 includes Xsens' optimized strapdown algorithm (AttitudeEngine) which performs high-speed dead-reckoning calculations at 1kHz to accurately capture high-frequency motion. Xsens' sensor fusion algorithm provides high accuracy and self-calibration of sensors in this cost-effective module for a wide range of in-vehicle applications.
